Mark,

Pursuant to the following, as stipulated by Andrew:

- Additionally, has employee been approved by SOR to telework from residence 100%?
- If so, was it a 90 day approval?
- Dates needed to show when approval was recorded. (Depending on length of time and if considered temporary, a reasonable accommodation request might not be necessary with SOR's approval.)

1. Applicant's/Employee's Name Max J Meindl	2. Telephone Number (202) 374-9426
3. Organization/Office PA	4. Date of Request 07/19/2022
5. Accommodation Requested (Be as specific as possible, e.g., sign language interpreter, or adaptive equipment such as voice recognition/keyboards, screen readers/magnification, etc.): Telework is hereby requested request until adjudication of RA requests, 2 filed 09/20/2021 and 1 filed on 07/19/2022, and to exempt employee, temporarily , from the requirement to report to the office twice per pay period for a period covering 08/04/2022 to 11/04/2022 . I Want to keep my job. I respectfully demand exemption from the requirement to populate my office chair twice a pay period, and I hereby stipulate that I meet the definition of a person having a "disability" under Sec. 12111(A)(8) of the Act. Briefly, major life activities include but are not limited to breathing, walking, learning, seeing, and hearing. An impairment is considered substantially limiting if it significantly restricts – or prevents altogether – an individual's ability to perform the activity as compared with the average person. A qualified individual with a disability is defined as one who: (1) satisfies the requisite skill, experience, education, and other job-related requirements of the position; and (2) can perform the essential functions of the position, with or without reasonable accommodation. How does an employee or applicant for employment request a reasonable accommodation? An employee may request a reasonable accommodation orally or in writing from his/her supervisor of record (SOR), by contacting OER, or by initiating the process through the DHS Accessibility Compliance Reporting System (ACMS).
6. Reason for Request: Employee has 3 current RA requests pending and they have not yet been adjudicated. The requests were made pursuant to the vaccine mandate and report to office mandate and have yet to be addressed. Employee does not perform any "daily or weekly" "testing" because he is not sick. Employee does not mask because it interferes with breathing and has not/will not wear a face diaper of questionable efficacy just to attend and sit in an office chair once a week. Employee has shortness of breath (COPD), hypertensive urgency, other forms of dyspnea, unilateral primary osteoarthritis, right knee, high blood pressure, hypertensive heart disease, COPD/lung disorders, supraventricular rapid heart rate, chest pain, angina, abnormal electrocardiogram (ECG), (EKG), atherosclerotic heart disease of native coronary artery causing unspecific angina pectoris. Additionally, abnormal results of cardiovascular functional studies. Employee does not want to be forced to go in to an office building in an area/community rated as "High Community Levels" and subject himself to potential exposure when he has successfully avoided and "High Community Level" areas for two and one-half years. Briefly describe the specific accommodation requested: Continued Remote/telework, temporary exemption from the report to office mandate.
7. If accommodation is time sensitive, please explain:

Subject: Max Meindl Reasonable Accommodation Request

Good Afternoon –

I have been tasked with verifying accountability for all staff scheduled to be in office on their designated days for the Houston office. I understand there is a pending Reasonable Accommodation request for Max. Below is an outline of the steps necessary to determine next action items for Max in the process re: his selected days in office for the Houston campus, as advised through discussion with Mission Support.

- When did employee initiate the Reasonable Accommodation request? Determine how long he has been out of the office.
- Identify employee's RA specialist (person tasked with his RA request since beginning process) and reach out to them about the pending request. If specific person cannot be located then email stated inquiries to the Reasonable Accommodations mailbox.
- Inquire where in the process the request is. What items, documents, or other necessary items are necessary to complete the process for request to be satisfied.
- Additionally, has employee been approved by SOR to telework from residence 100%? If so, was it a 90 day approval? Dates needed to show when approval was recorded. (Depending on length of time and if considered temporary, a reasonable accommodation request might not be necessary with SOR's approval.)

I am attempting to answer some of Max's questions on next steps he needs to take and identify how the request can be settled through the proper guidelines we were given. If further clarification is needed please reach out to Karina Aguilo from Mission Support to advise.

Thank you,

Andrew O'Donovan
