

FEMA DIRECTIVE: Personnel Standards of Conduct

FEMA Directive 123-0-2-1

BACKGROUND

This Directive applies to all Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) employees (referred to as “FEMA employees”), those detailed or otherwise assigned to FEMA from other Components within the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), other Federal agencies, or under the Intergovernmental Personnel Act (IPA), collectively referred to herein as “personnel.” This Directive does not supersede any directives or instructions.

PURPOSE

This directive sets forth FEMA’s policy for the general standards of conduct and ensures all personnel covered by this Directive are guided by the principles established in FEMA Policy 112-01, Publication 1, \(We are FEMA\). This Directive promotes professionalism and conforms to established ethical principles. Absence of a specific standard of conduct herein does not mean that unspecified behavior is permissible or that no corrective action will be taken from unspecified conduct. All personnel should review the Authorities and References listed in the Additional Information section of this Directive and refer to the FEMA Active Policy Inventory for other policies, directives, and instructions that may directly or indirectly relate to Federal employee conduct and ethics.

PRINCIPLES

- A. FEMA’s Core Values of Compassion, Fairness, Integrity, and Respect guide the actions and behavior of its employees.
- B. Public service is a public trust. Maintaining strong standards of behavior and ethical conduct also maintains public trust and confidence in FEMA and its workforce.

REQUIREMENTS

A. GENERAL CONDUCT

Outcome: All personnel will carry out their duties in a professional, respectful, and ethical manner, and will abide by this Directive and all FEMA and DHS policies and procedures, as well as, all applicable laws and regulations pertaining to federal employee conduct. All FEMA employees are subject to appropriate disciplinary action for misconduct when it is determined the employee violated any law, regulation, or policy for DHS or FEMA. (See Appendix A for Responsibilities of FEMA employees.) Non-FEMA employees may be disciplined subject to the policies set forth by their employing organization. Non-FEMA employees under an IPA must comply with the IPA agreement to the extent it is applicable regarding the obligations and responsibilities of FEMA, the participating organization, and the employee during the assignment period.

1. Communication. All personnel will be professional in their communications (verbal, non-verbal, and written), contact with supervisors, subordinates, co-workers, other FEMA employees, affiliates, and members of the public. "Professional" for the purposes of this directive means being polite, respectful, helpful, considerate, and patient.
2. Job Performance. All personnel shall be disciplined and meet all performance obligations in the performance of their duties to the government and the public while following FEMA policies and procedures.
3. Dress and Attire. All personnel must be dressed appropriately to present a professional and positive image that incorporates regional and cultural tolerance to the public and/or colleagues while on duty. This requirement is not limited to the traditional workplace and extends to telework, remote, and virtual environments. Supervisors have the authority to decide if a person's attire is inappropriate. After consulting with FEMA's Office of Chief Component Human Capital Officer (OCCHCO) and Labor Employee Relations (LER), the Supervisor may send FEMA employees home and require that they take leave, pursuant to the FEMA Manual 123-10-1 Absence and Leave, until they comply. For all other personnel, they may be sent home as well, and their sponsoring agency notified.
 - a. Examples of inappropriate dress include, but are not limited to:
 - i. shorts;
 - ii. flip flops;
 - iii. clothing that shows offensive images or texts;
 - iv. clothing that exposes one's midsection; and
 - v. clothing that is ripped.
 - b. For classroom activities, appropriate casual business attire may be worn. Examples of appropriate business attire include, but are not limited to:
 - i. slacks;
 - ii. khakis;
 - iii. suits;
 - iv. sport coats
 - v. blazers;
 - vi. skirts/dresses;
 - vii. shirts with collars;
 - viii. capri pants;
 - ix. sweaters; and
 - x. dress or casual shoes.

Additional guidance regarding the use of FEMA distinctive clothing is addressed in FEMA Directive 123-18 Standard FEMA-Distinctive Clothing.

4. Badge, Credentials, and Official Identification. Personnel will not use any FEMA identification, or other form of identification associated with their employment, in a manner which may reasonably give the perception that they are using the identification for personal benefit, attempting to exert undue influence, or to obtain, directly or indirectly, a favor, reward, or preferential treatment for themselves or others, or to improperly enhance their own image. All personnel are prohibited from cloning, scanning, photocopying, or modifying their FEMA badge, credential, or official identification. See FEMA Directive 121-1 Personal Identification Standard and FEMA Instruction 121-3-1 Credential and Access Reference Instruction.

5. False Statements. All personnel must be truthful and fully forthcoming in all official matters and duties, and will not knowingly make false, misleading, incomplete, or ambiguous statements, whether written, verbal or non-verbal.
6. Workplace Environment. FEMA requires a safe, inclusive, productive, professional, and respectful workplace that is free of harassment (sexual or non-sexual), discrimination, retaliation, and violence. See DHS MD 256-01 Anti-Harassment Program.
 - a. Workplace. Workplace is defined as the location where the employee regularly performs their duties. This includes but is not limited to the traditional worksite and extends to all telework, remote, and virtual environments.
 - b. Harassment. FEMA promotes a workplace environment free of all forms of harassment wherever FEMA employees work, including any form of harassment that does not rise to the level that violates the law. FEMA prohibits any unwelcome verbal or physical act conducted based on one of the Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) protected biases to include race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy, gender identity, and sexual orientation), national origin, age (over 40), disability, and genetic information. Retaliation/reprisal for EEO activity that is so objectively offensive as to alter the conditions of one's employment where the conduct culminates in a tangible employment action or is sufficiently severe and/or pervasive as to create a hostile work environment is also prohibited. FEMA takes every allegation of harassment seriously, strongly encourages the reporting of suspected harassment, investigates every allegation of harassment promptly and fairly, and will impose appropriate discipline on any FEMA employees found to have engaged in harassment, regardless of rank or position, up to and including termination from employment.
 - i. In accordance with the DHS Instruction 256-01-001, Anti-Harassment Program, FEMA prohibits harassing conduct having a direct nexus to the individual's position or responsibilities, which occurs on duty, off duty, face-to-face, or remotely via electronic/digital means, including, but not limited to telephone, email, social media, websites and chat applications. Such conduct is prohibited regardless of whether it occurs during working hours or on DHS property.
 - c. Violence. FEMA does not tolerate workplace violence including physical assaults, physical contact, intimidation, threats (verbal, written, or visual) or other disruptive behavior or language or work-place related incidents of domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking. See DHS MD 256-03 Workplace Violence.
 - d. Discrimination. FEMA does not tolerate discrimination by anyone based on an individual's race, color, sex (including pregnancy, gender identity, sexual orientation), religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, or previous EEO activity. See FEMA Directive 112-14 Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Employment. Furthermore, it is FEMA's policy to ensure the civil rights of all persons receiving services or benefits from Agency programs and activities are protected. All personnel working to support disaster or emergency assistance functions shall perform their work in an equitable and impartial manner without discrimination. See FEMA Directive 112-11, Title VI Civil Rights Program. No personnel shall discriminate against other employees based on union membership or union activities.

7. Fraternization. It is prohibited for any person to form, maintain, solicit, or attempt to form an intimate relationship with a covered individual (see A.7.b.ii) if the person works on matters in their official capacity that affect or involve the covered individual, or if the person represents to the covered individual that they have the ability to influence such a matter in their official capacity that affects or involves the covered individual.
 - a. Applicability. This prohibition applies equally to all personnel covered by this Directive, regardless of position, grade, or status, whether at headquarters, a regional office, fixed facility, or a deployed location.
 - b. Variances. The FEMA Office of Chief Counsel (OCC) Ethics Counselor, in coordination with the employee's supervisor, may provide written guidance authorizing variances to the standards in this paragraph, consistent with the Standards of Ethical Conduct for Employees of the Executive Branch, or measures (such as a transfer to new duties or a screening agreement) to safeguard against potential conflicts of interest.
 - i. An "intimate relationship" includes marriage; engagement; dating; engaging in acts, communications, or relationships of a romantic or sexual nature; and the sharing of living or sleeping accommodations other than for authorized temporary duty (TDY) lodging, regardless of who initiates the intimate relationship.
 - ii. A "covered individual" includes a supervisor, a subordinate, a FEMA Corps member, an applicant for or recipient of FEMA Individual or Public Assistance, a person who is seeking employment with FEMA, a current or prospective FEMA contractor or grantee, or any other person with whom an intimate relationship would give an appearance of impropriety.
 - iii. A "supervisor" is a person who has the authority to approve or disapprove, or make a recommendation concerning another subordinate person's performance evaluations, awards, assignments of work, discipline, term renewal, promotion, deployment, mobilization, demobilization, or other conditions of employment. The supervisor-subordinate relationship remains notwithstanding how many other personnel are between the two personnel in the chain of supervision, whether the supervisor provides direct, day-to-day supervision over the subordinate's work or is a temporary or permanent.
8. Safety. All personnel will observe and employ safe practices in accordance with all applicable regulations and guidance, including those developed in response to unforeseen developments such as pandemic responses, in the performance of their duties. Employees will promptly report to their supervisors any injury, accident, or illness that occurs in connection with the performance of their official duties by the most expeditious means available.
9. Nepotism. Personnel will not appoint, employ, promote, advance, or advocate for appointment, employment, promotion, or advancement, in or to a civilian position in the agency in which they are serving or over which they exercise jurisdiction or control an individual who is a relative, as prohibited by 5 U.S.C. § 3110 and under “prohibited personnel practices” in 5 U.S.C. § 2302(b)(7).

10. Preferential Treatment. FEMA employees must act impartially and not give preferential treatment to any private organization or individual, per 5 C.F.R. § 2635.101. For the intent of this Directive, preferential treatment is defined as giving an unfair advantage, that is not based on merit, to one person or group at the expense of another, also known as favoritism or cronyism. FEMA prohibits providing any unfair advantage to friends, relatives, or persons with whom the employee is affiliated in a nongovernmental capacity. Preferential treatment can occur in a variety of contexts. Examples of improper preferential treatment in the hiring process include but are not limited to the following:
 - a. FEMA employees must not disclose non-public information or otherwise use their public office for private gain or to provide an unfair advantage to an applicant for FEMA employment. See 5 C.F.R. §§ 2635.702 and 2635.703.
 - b. FEMA employees must avoid the appearance of loss of impartiality when they participate as the selection official (including serving as a panel member) for a vacancy or for the award of grants or contracts. Employees must not direct or attempt to influence a selection process, selection official, or panel member. Any employee whose duties require them to participate in any selection for a job, grant, or contract will immediately notify their supervisor if the applicant is a relative with whom they have a close personal relationship or friend with whom they have a close personal relationship. In such cases, the supervisor must consult with an Ethics Counselor to determine whether the employee must recuse themselves from participation and must provide written documentation to OCCHCO for inclusion in the hiring file. There are other relationships the employee may have with an applicant that may require consultation with an Ethics Counselor. See 5 C.F.R. § 2635.502.

B. OTHER ACTIVITIES AND CONDUCT

Outcome: All personnel will observe rules and guidelines regarding specially identified activities and conduct.

1. Conduct: Personnel shall not engage in criminal, infamous, dishonest, immoral, or notoriously disgraceful conduct, or other conduct prejudicial to the Government. Notoriously disgraceful conduct is any conduct that would embarrass or discredit the employee, FEMA, or the Federal Government. All personnel shall conduct themselves in a professional manner on and off duty.
2. Substance Abuse.
 - a. Personnel will not report for duty or remain on duty under the influence of alcohol, prescription (including medication) or illegal drugs (including cannabis and cannabidiol (CBD)) that impair or impede with the employee’s ability to fulfill their performance of duties. See FEMA Manual 123-20-1 Drug-Free Workplace Program.
 - b. Personnel may not purchase, possess, sell, distribute, or consume alcohol or illegal drugs (including cannabis and CBD) while on official duty. Any off duty use of a controlled substance, or other substance in violation of federal law or regulation (including cannabis) is prohibited. An exemption for the appropriate official use of alcoholic beverages may be obtained in accordance with 41 C.F.R. § 102-74.405.

- i. Cannabis is a controlled substance under federal law, notwithstanding its legalization for medical or recreational use in some U.S. states or territories. As such, any use of cannabis or any other controlled substance, whether on-duty or off-duty, may result in the suspension or revocation of an employee's security clearance, and/or disciplinary action.
 - c. Under no circumstances will personnel operate Government-Owned, Government Furnished, or Government Leased vehicles or machinery while under the influence of alcohol or drugs, including cannabis and CBD. Alcoholic beverages may not be transported in a Government owned, furnished, or leased vehicle or machinery.
 - d. If any personnel require additional mental health resources or assistance, they have the option of contacting the Federal Government's Employee Assistance Program (EAP) at www.FOH4you.com.
3. Gambling. Personnel will not engage in any gambling activity while on or off duty at any government owned or leased premises, including gambling on the internet, conducting an office pool or fantasy sports league, or any game with financial stakes. Further, at no time will employees use any government furnished, owned or leased, equipment for any such activity. This includes but is not limited to the use of internet browsers on FEMA-issued mobile devices to access such gambling sites.
4. Smoking, Vaping, and Smokeless Tobacco. Smoking, vaping, and smokeless tobacco are only permitted in the designated areas. Smoking and vaping are prohibited in courtyards and within twenty-five (25) feet of doorways and air intake ducts on outdoor space under the jurisdiction, custody, or control of the federal government. Candles and incense are not permitted to be used in any FEMA buildings, facilities, or Government owned, leased, or furnished vehicles.
5. Firearms and Weaponry. Unless firearms and other FEMA-issued use of force weaponry are authorized and required in the performance of duty, personnel will not carry firearms, weapons, or other weaponry, either openly or concealed, while on official duty or on government-owned or leased property (including, but not limited to rental cars, hotel rooms, and/or other accommodations reimbursed by FEMA). Personnel will not transport firearms and weaponry in GOVs, unless authorized to do so. For all items prohibited on federal property, see Interagency Security Committee \(ISC\) Standard Items Prohibited from Federal Facilities.
6. Off Duty Conduct. When off duty, personnel should not engage in criminal misconduct, harassment, or other personal behavior that reflects negatively on FEMA or could cause the loss of public trust and confidence with FEMA.
7. Social Media Use.

- a. FEMA personnel may not state or imply that they are communicating on behalf of FEMA, DHS, or the Federal Government while using social media for personal purposes, including:

8. Unlawful Activities and Arrests. FEMA regards any violation of law as being inconsistent with and contrary to the Agency's core values. Therefore, personnel will not engage in any activities which violate local, state, and/or federal laws, which may result in their arrest or their receipt of a summons to appear in court on criminal charges. A custodial arrest, the payment of a bail or bond, a sentence to any term of confinement, or receipt of a summons to appear in court on criminal charges must be reported to the Office of Professional Responsibility (OPR) in accordance with FEMA Directive 112-13, Office of Professional Responsibility, and their immediate supervisor or other management official within their chain of command as soon as reasonably possible. Minor traffic violations will be exempt to this rule.

C. GOVERNMENT PROPERTY AND INFORMATION

Outcome: All personnel are good stewards of Government property and information.

1. Government Property. All personnel must conserve, protect, and dispose of Government property in accordance with FEMA Manual 119-7-1 Personal Property. - e. Monitoring. All use of FEMA information systems by anyone (including FEMA, personnel, contractors, and others working on behalf of FEMA) is subject to monitoring or search at any time.
